

The Myralls
Beckenham June 15th.

My dear Mr Garrison
I have just heard through a letter from my cousin Agnes Simpson that you you are at Nayfield and that you & your son will shortly be in London. I write now to beg very warmly that he may have the pleasure of seeing you when here again wan if you can spare time to come to Beckenham. & It will be a great happiness to my mother to make your personal acquaintance. Through a long life she has been an earnest and unswerving sympathizer in the cause of freedom. I feel as if I might say that I think it might be pleasant to you to meet her also!

I had a very kind letter from Mr Wendell Garrison a few days ago. a letter I value very highly. from the kindness it conveyed me by written in such a sense of sorrow. I need not tell you how much I should like to talk to you a while about dear Lucy - & hear some further particulars of the last days of her life on earth.

If you would kindly let us have your London address my husband & I would call upon you & we could then fix some time to suit your convenience to come down to Beckenham.

Believe me, yours sincerely
Agnes Maule
